

Question: Is it o.k. to ask an interviewee, (Question #19) "Have you ever belonged to a union?" -- "It depends."

“Why?”

Answer: It is not strictly illegal per se to ask, but it is a violation of the National Labor Relations Act to discriminate based on union affiliation. So it is a poor question that could likely lead to charge of violating the NLRA.

James K. Cowan
Attorney at Law

LECLAIRRYAN

2000 Kraft Drive, Suite 1000

Blacksburg, Virginia 24060

(540) 961-2600

(540) 961-2941 Fax

James.Cowan@leclairryan.com

<http://www.leclairryan.com>